

Question and Answer Column

For several weeks the Board of Education of the Orland Community High School has tried in various ways to acquaint each citizen in this high school district with the facts concerning the impending election on the question of the consolidation of the Orland High School District and the Palos High School District. Last week the Board used a Question and Answer Column in this newspaper. Continuing this method of presenting the subject to the citizens, the Board offers the following questions and answers for the people's consideration this week.

1. Question: Will it be necessary to elect a new High School Board if the consolidation is effected?

Answer: Yes, if the proposed consolidation is approved by the voters in both high school districts, the two existing Boards of Education will automatically go out of existence. A new Board of Education with seven members will then be elected.

2. Question: How can we be sure that Orland Township would be fairly represented on the new Board?

Answer: The Orland and Palos Boards agree that the new Board should probably have on it three members from each of the present Boards and a seventh member who might come from either area. This cannot be guaranteed legally, but the two Boards have discussed this problem frankly on several occasions, and the members of the Orland Board are confident that our township will be fairly represented on the new Board. We remember that when the Orland High School District was formed several years ago, some of the people in the south part of our district were afraid of not having representation on the High School Board. They have always been fairly represented. At the present time, two of our five Board members are farmers who live in the country south of Orland Park.

3. Question: Is there danger that North Palos, with its rather dense population, would organize to out-vote the remainder of the new district now or in future years?

Answer: We do not think so, for two reasons: first, we feel that they would have no reason to vote against the other parts of the new district since we would all want the same thing, namely, a good school for all our children; and second, even if they should sometime attempt such a thing, it seems safe to assume that Orland and South Palos could and would unite to defeat such an attempt. At the present time only one of the five members of the Palos High School Board lives in North Palos. The other four live in Palos Park and Palos Heights.

4. Question: If we admit North Palos to our new district with its rather low average wealth per high school student, would that not mean that Orland would be taxed to educate North Palos children?

Answer: Yes, it is true that the tax receipts of the whole district would be "pooled" to educate all the children. This always happens in public school districts. That is, almost every public school district has some areas that are less wealthy than others, and all the children get the same kind of education. To oppose this plan would seem to be the same as opposing the whole idea of public education.

If you have other questions which you would like to see answered in this column before election day on June 24, please give them or send them to the Orland Park Superintendent of Schools or the High School Board of Education. Or, if you prefer, a representative of the Board of Education will be glad to talk with you personally or to meet with any community organization to discuss the proposed consolidation in more detail.

Summer Work for Mokena Band

Those who have had the opportunity to hear the Mokena instrumental group this year know that Mokena is on its way of having a band and orchestra of which it can be proud. Miss Katherine Lilley of Joliet has been the instructor and director.

In order to make the band a success, each year the number of members must be increased. The Music association of Mokena is advising parents who intend to have their children join the group in the fall, that they would be much further ahead if they could be in training a little this summer. They advise beginners to learn the clarinet, cornet, flute, violin, trombone or drums.

In order to give the Mokena pupils this advantage, Miss Lilley has agreed to give extra help in this line during the summer. For further particulars ask or see any member of the Music association or contact Miss Lilley at Joliet 2-2558, 305 Fairbanks avenue.

A TALL STORY OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO FARMERS

When Mr. and Mrs. Earl Goodson visited his father recently at Columbia, Mo., Earl brought back some fine looking wheat in a sheaf "harvested" from his father's large farm.

The wheat measures 45 inches tall, but has not fully headed out as yet. Wonder if any wheat raisers in this vicinity can boast of wheat that tall.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to offer our sincere thanks to all our friends and relatives for their kindness shown us; for the beautiful floral gifts; the use of cars and the comforting words of Rev. L. Reinke in our recent bereavement in the death of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. George Hacker.

Under The Cross Of Malta

I wonder what happened to the office boy, did his bike break down? Of course we don't have a bike stand yet. Plans are under way to have the parking lot graveled in the near future.

Of course to do so we have to make some money to work with, so we are having a dance on June 17. We hope to raise enough money to make it possible to gravel our lot and finish the building. Of course we know it isn't possible to do all this at once, but we hope the public understands. Thus far the public has been very good to us and we hope to merit their support in the future.

Last summer we started an ambitious program to sponsor a drum and bugle corps or some other musical group. Of course with our building program under way, we were advised to put all our effort into it, so we have done nothing further toward the musical groups sponsorship. However, whenever there is a parade such as we had Memorial Day, the need for a marching unit is apparent, so the idea has not been dropped, but rather postponed.

Thursday will be meeting night again as we hope the comrades turn out in numbers. Several topics of importance are to be discussed and every member has a right to voice an opinion. If each topic is discussed and thought out before a vote is taken, the post will benefit and the adjutants work will be much easier.—Elna L. Saarela, publicity.

The bride table was graced with a four tiered wedding cake with a bride and groom miniature topper, and lighted crystal candelabra. The church was decorated with white crepe streamers, wedding bells and bouquets of flowers.

The couple left Saturday night for a southern honeymoon trip. Out of town guests were from Fennville, Mich., Peotone, Frankfort, Evergreen Park, Chicago, Joliet, Tinley Park, Aurora, Harvey, Matteson and two guests were present from the Netherlands.

The couple from the Netherlands, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buscher, grand parents of Mrs. Wm. Atkins of Fennville, Mich., celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary the same day, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Creer celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary.

Later in the evening, friends gathered at the Thomas Cooper home where the wedding gifts were opened.

LOCAL PEOPLE IN 4-CAR MIXUP

A four car smashup occurred at New Lenox Monday evening which involved local people.

Ralph Stegman, 19, of New Lenox was coming east on route 30 in a Ford and turned left to park at Ozzie's ice cream parlor. At the same time, coming from the east, was Frank Stauffer, 23, of Mokena, in a Ford and collided with Stegman as he was turning to park. The impact sent Stegman into the William Batson's 1949 Dodge, which was parked at Ozzie's and at the same time, coming from the west was Harry Lea, 38, of East Gary, Ind. Stauffer bounced off of the collision and hit Lea, who was driving a 1949 Studebaker.

According to state police, no one was injured except for minor lacerations which were treated by the officers with first aid at the scene.

It has been estimated that about $500 damage was done to the Studebaker; small damage to the Batson's Dodge and the Stauffer and Stegman cars were badly wrecked.

SOFTBALL

ORLAND GIRL'S SOFTBALL

The Orland Girl's Softball Team opened the season May 31 by having a practice game with the Tinley Park church team. They won this game by a score of 21 to 14.

Orland was ahead all through the game, which was partly due to the seven runs driven in by Margie Yunker with her two home runs.

The first league game was played against Tinley at Memorial Park June 5. This was an exciting game with Orland behind the first innings. By the 7th inning the score was tied and it went an extra inning in which Orland scored a run to hold the lead and win the game. Agnes Specht came thru in the 4th with a home run. The bases were loaded.

BASEBALL

Tinley Shuts Out Midlothian 3 to 0
Sunday, June 4 Midlothian visited Tinley and took a 3 to 0 loss.
Don Kuech was Tinley's star in this game hurling a four hitter while getting two hits for three times at bat.

Johnny Ficker also got two hits in four times at bat driving in two of the Sportsman's three runs.

This game was well played and a nip and tuck affair from start to finish. Tinley's two double plays, one each in the first and second innings staved off rallies in each inning.

Tinley's first run came in the third inning when Reiher second up walked, stole second; advanced to third while Anderson was being thrown out by the pitcher and scored on a passed ball. The Sportsman counted their second marker in the fourth inning when Bettenhausen second up walked, stole second, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on Fickers single.

The Sportsman counted run number three in the sixth when Trepanier first up doubled, Landau struck out, Bettenhausen tapped to the pitcher who threw to third nailing Trepanier. Kuech walked, Ficker singled Bettenhausen home. Lloyd tapped to the pitcher ending the inning.

Midlothian's chukkers pitched very good ball also giving up six hits while striking out 16 and walking four.

Sunday June 11, the Sportsman will visit Oak Forest AC's whose playing field is located at 158th street and one block west of Cicero avenue. Game time 2:30.

Shouldn't We Grownups Be Ashamed of What We're Doing to Her?

I'm Susie's dad. I invested $18.75 for her today. Ten years from now she'll have $25. But what will her $25 buy in 1960?

From 1940 to 1950, the price of bread has increased from 7 1/2¢ to 17¢ for a somewhat larger loaf; a pound of chuck roast from 23¢ to 55¢; a pound of coffee from 23¢ to 79¢; a new auto from $895 to $1680; a house and lot from $6425 to $11,500. How much will Susie's $25 buy in 1960? Will my wife and I be able to live on my pension and insurance annuity after I'm retired, or will Susie have to help support us?

I earn $60 a week but I receive only $55.70 after federal taxes are withheld... that's $223.60 taxes a year. I pay direct taxes for state and local government besides. About 5¢ of the price of a loaf of bread is for at least 151 hidden taxes. I pay over 11¢ tax on a 20¢ pack of cigarettes. At least $355 of the price of our new car was tax. The price of every single thing we buy includes taxes to pay the high cost of government, amounting roughly to at least 25¢ out of every dollar we spend. But our government still can't live within its income... and the Hoover Commission Report proves we're not getting our money's worth.

I'm ashamed, but I'm waking up.

I'm going to vote at every election, and I'm going to vote for those who, regardless of party, promise to protect my Susie's future against more debt, more taxes, more bureaucracy, less freedom, less opportunity. That will help insure that Susie's dollars and my pension dollars will buy more tomorrow than they will today. I'm going to keep tabs on those elected to see if they keep their promises. And I'm going to write my Congressmen right now to tell them this.

Then maybe I can look Susie in the eye, and not be ashamed.

How about you?

Many a wily female has coaxed her spouse into taking care of the kiddies, but the mamma gaff-topsall catfish really stretches the point. For about 80 days her mate patiently holds a mouthful of eggs the size of marbles. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, he doesn't swallow them, but neither does he get to swallow any food.

The field mouse may lead a happier life than his city cousin, but he still has worries. Crouching in many a bush waiting to pounce on him are mice-loving frogs. Childcraft books report that frogs can give a pretty fair imitation of a cat's tactics, and enjoy a field mouse meal.

BOAT OWNER GETS THE BIRD—What to do with a duck on the deck presented a knotty problem for boat owner Fred G. Clarke, Jr., of Seattle, Wash. This mallard hen assumed command of the craft by selecting a coil of rope on its foredeck to deposit a clutch of nine eggs. Not wishing to disturb the wild waterfowl in the performance of her motherly duties, Clarke had to turn the boat over to the hen during the three-week incubation period.

SHORT STORY

Vanity All

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"EVERY MAN," said Inspector Joe Warren, frowning over the letter which he held in his hand, "has a weak point. In the case of 'The Flash,' most daring criminal of this city's criminal history, it appears to be vanity."

3-Minute Fiction

He gestured toward the letter. "The fellow has become drunk with his success in accomplishing two outstanding robberies. And now he has taken to writing us letters, stating just where he's going to be at a certain time and what he plans to do."

Detective Fargo blew smoke rings at the ceiling and evaded his chief's eyes.

"So far," he said, "he seems to have been pretty successful in carrying out his plans. This is the third letter we've received."

"Each time The Flash has appeared where he said he would at exactly the time denoted in his letters. And while we've stood idly by he's committed his crimes and escaped. What's he up to this time?"

"The Devonshire party," Warren growled. The truth of Fargo's statement scored him. "Mrs. Devonshire is planning to wear that valuable emerald her husband brought her from Europe a month ago. The Flash states in this letter that he intends to steal the emerald and defies us to stop him."

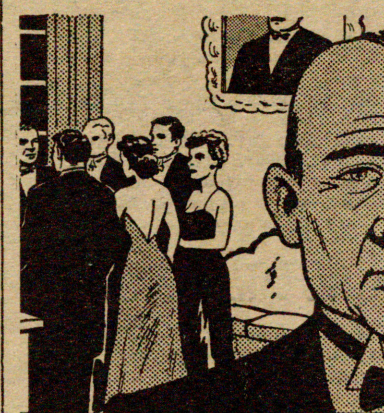

Fargo crushed out his cigaret. "Have you taken any steps to prevent the robbery?"

"Fargo, as you know, the Flash's disguise is perfect. He'll appear at that party as a guest, or servant or someone with whom the Devonshires are but slightly acquainted. I want you to go up there early, meet Mrs. Devonshire when she comes down stairs and stick with her until the last guest has gone. Then see to it that the emerald is stored away in a safe before you leave. I'll have Johnson and a couple of other men mingling with the guests."

AT 11 O'CLOCK on the night of the Devonshire party Inspector Warren drew his roadster up before the palatial mansion and ascended the steps.

The moment the Devonshire butler opened the door Warren knew something had happened. The butler's face was white and drawn, and over his shoulder Warren could see a group of guests huddled in the hallway, with Detective Johnson standing guard.

Warren stepped quickly inside. And at that moment Mrs. Devonshire, accompanied by her husband and Detective Fargo, came flying down the stairs.

"What's happened?" Warren barked at Fargo, ignoring the incoherent babble of Mrs. Devonshire.

"It's gone," Fargo grated. "About an hour ago. I was standing behind Mrs. Devonshire in the reception line. Someone poked a walk in my back and told me to gawk backwards. When I saw the fellow's face I knew it was The Flash, because he was a dead ringer for myself."

"A ringer for you?" Warren gasped. "What the devil do you mean?"

"I mean," said Fargo grimly, "that his disguise this time looked like me, generally speaking. He forced me into a closet and cracked me over the head. Naturally no one noticed that anything was happening, as Mrs. Devonshire was exhibiting her emerald at the time. And when The Flash returned and stood in my place, it occurred to no one that it was not me."

"Ten minutes ago I came to and began to kick on the door. Devonshire opened it. I rushed to Mrs. Devonshire and discovered that she had just missed her emerald. The Flash has outsmarted us again!" Warren slumped wearily into a chair.

"Tomorrow," he groaned, "every newspaper in the city will have the story. It will be the most humiliating moment of my life."

Fargo smiled bitterly. "Every man has his weak point," he said. "Yours seems to be vanity."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
There have been several articles in this paper recently "selling" the idea that the proposed merger of the Orland and Palos High School districts would be a good thing for Orland. A completely different set of articles have been appearing in the Palos paper. These articles are telling the voters that it is a chance for Palos to "get our own High School." When propaganda is "tailored" to fit different groups of voters, one can be pretty sure that material facts are being purposely hidden—that the purpose of the writers is to "win the election" rather than to let the people decide the issue on its merits.

The question as to whether or not the people of Orland shall abandon their High school and join with another more populous district to establish a completely new school is much too important an issue to be decided by "get it all wrapped up—put a few articles in the paper—send out a letter or two—and vote her thru."

We have been able to operate a good school serving the 100 high school students in our own district, and one good enough to attract approximately 50 students from nearby communities—Mokena, Tinley Park and even Palos. Until an opportunity for consolidation comes along which has definite advantages financially and would it not be better to keep what we have and to our Orland people—both educationally and financially—would it not be better to keep what we have and continue to improve OUR schools—both grade and high?

An Orland Resident.

Dear Editor:
There have been numerous articles in your paper recently recommending the proposed consolidation of Orland Community High School District No. 221 with the Palos Community High School District No. 222. The manner in which the case has been presented indicates a definite effort to persuade the people of Orland Township to vote in favor of the proposition.

It is difficult to understand how a merger with the Palos District can be of any advantage to Orland. Palos has twice the number of children to educate with only 17 per cent more assessed valuation. Neither district has any industry to help bear the tax load; therefore, it will be necessary to levy the maximum amount of taxes in order to maintain an adequate educational program. If a new high school is built, it will have to be of the cheapest possible construction in order to house the large number of pupils. We may expect our high school tax rate to be raised at least 40 per cent, and possibly as much as 60 per cent, in order to finance such a school.

The area north of 107th st. to 87th, lying west of Harlem known as North Palos, has more children of school age than the whole of Orland township, and only one-half as much assessed valuation. Palos Heights, west of Harlem, and Palos Park combined have approximately the same number of pupils as Orland, but considerably less assessed valuation. It is reasonable to expect that the population of these two areas will continue to increase rapidly for a number of years.

Below is listed data collected on the various areas. The number of pupils is approximately the number enrolled during the past school year. The assessed valuations were taken from the Cook county tax records made public in April, 1950.

Area	Pupils	Assessed
North Palos	535	$9,552,786
South Palos	400	$8,123,326
2 minor areas	35	808,427

Total Dist. 222.....970 $9,552,786
Orland Dist. 221.....485 $8,123,326

Orland High school is not affected by the new laws; therefore, there is no reason why we should take such a drastic step at this time. There are several other solutions to Orland's school problems which will give us a good educational program at a lower tax rate.

Signed,

MORE CORN... Fewer Nubbins

"What's fertility-level check planting, and why will it give me more corn and fewer nubbins?" a fellow asked me one day.

"Well, you know, an ordinary planter checks either 2, 3, or 4 kernels per hill—7,840, 11,760, or 15,680 kernels per acre. But suppose your soil's fertility level requires a kernel population somewhere between those figures?"

"Right now, I'm just out of luck," he said.
 "No, you're not. With the new, high-speed, clutchless McCormick 'population planter', you can plant somewhere between those 7, 11, or 15 thousand. There are 18 different speeds to give you any in-between rate. And you can drill or hill-drop to any per-acre population, too."

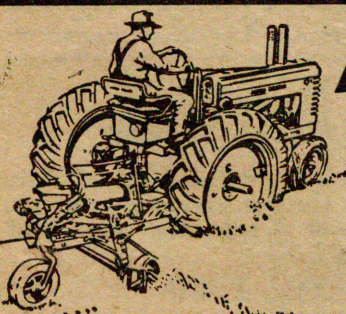

"Sounds good to me... and I like the planting units in front, too, where I can watch them and the marker-track at the same time."
 "To say nothing of handy fingertip Farmall Touch-Control to lift and lower the planters," I reminded him.

"From now on it's more corn and less nubbins for me, too. Order me a Farmall C corn planter right now!"

Human Life Now
At 65 Year Average

Man once shared the 25-year life expectancy of a pack-donkey, but over a 2,000 year period has attained a 65-year average—almost rivaling the 70-year expectancy of the whale, the longest-lived mammal in the life chart.

But this increased age has drawbacks in the form of cancer, diabetes and heart disease, according to Dr. Andrew Conway Ivy, vice president of the Chicago Professional Colleges, University of Illinois.

Writing for the World Book Encyclopedia, Ivy points out that the average Roman of about 50 B. C. lived only 25 years. Modern medicine and sanitation now give a man at least 40 more years—and a greater chance of having one of the diseases usually associated with the aging of the human body.

Human progress up the life-expectancy ladder is something of a triumph for man, who is not too well endowed with protective equipment. He is the only mammal in the higher brackets of World Book's life chart who is without some form of protective armor. For example, he ranks with the whale, 70; the elephant, 60; the hippopotamus, 40; and the alligator, 40 years.

Domesticated mammals range in life expectancy from the dog, 10 years, to the cow and horse, 20 years, and the burro, 25. Lowest mammal in the chart is the mouse, who lives from 2 to 6 years.

SCRIPTURE: Zephaniah, especially 1:12-18; 3:1-5; 3:16-20.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 111: 1-10.

Repentance

Lesson for June 11, 1950

ZEPHANIAH seldom has been any reader's favorite prophet. His pictures of doom are enough to send shudders down any one's spine. It is as realistic as if he were describing H-bomb day. But the main point of Zephaniah is plain and practical: Repent! For selfish man and stubborn nation, that is the first necessity of all. Repentance is not merely regretting something one has done. Anybody can do that—and go right on committing the same sin. Furthermore, a man's regret for something he has done may be for a wrong reason.

Suppose an adulterer is sorry for the publicity he got when the newspapers caught up with him? Suppose a lazy farmer is sorry, at harvest time, that he didn't work harder during the summer? That sort of thing is not repentance at all.

Also, repentance is not just repentance-in-general. It is one thing to say, "O God, I am a sinner." It is quite another thing, and a harder one, to kneel and say to God: "You know well what a liar I have been."

Repentance is not real unless it is honest; and it is not honest till the repentor looks squarely at his own sins, knows them for real sins and is willing to call them by the ugly names they deserve.

Repentance As The Bible Sees It

THE BIBLE MEANING of repentance is something radical, something life-changing. As the prophets and our Lord set it before us, it means a total change of inner attitude and viewpoint. It does not mean so much stopping something you enjoy, as it means enjoying something altogether different from what you used to enjoy.

For example, you never truly repent of pride until you are really humble on the inside. You never have fully repented of selfishness so long as your biggest "kick" comes from kicking other people around. Repentance means a redirection of life. It means loving whatever good you hated and hating whatever evil you loved.

The question is: Are you content to be what you are, as you are, or do you sincerely want to be a better, indeed a different person? For that, the grace of God is necessary. For repentance means nothing short of being made over.

Are you aware that by yourself you are doomed to be yourself, your worst self? What is needed is not that you shall make yourself over, what is needed is that you shall pray God to make you over. His grace is not forced on the unwilling. The change may not come all at once, not overnight. Yet surely, and it may be swiftly.

There have been persons whose lives have changed in a single night. In a single moment. There are others whose life - transformation has come slowly. But wherever real repentance is, there the Spirit of God has been at work.

Man does not live in his own universe. He lives in a universe which he could not have created—in a sense he is a guest of it. It is a universe God created in love, and rules in love. Work and live "against the grain" of God's law of love, and you are headed for destruction.

To repent means that you come out new, in the image of God. Not to repent means that you are a breaker of God's laws because you do not like his laws. To repent means that (in the language of the ancient Psalmist) you love the law of God.

To the unrepentant, the laws of God are like the bars of a cruel cage. To the repentant, the laws of God are like rails to a locomotive—the highway of power.

(Readers who wish to examine the Bible's teachings on repentance should read "The Meaning of Repentance" by William Douglas Chamberlain, published by the Westminster Press.)

LOCKED UP BY "RADAR"—Natalie Robertson, Los Angeles, Calif., shows how the "radar" calling-card house lock works. Resident comes home, slips card into slot and the door opens. Anybody else's card would set off a burglar alarm. Card, much like a "charge-a-plate," has concealed graphite patterns which fit like patterns in the slot.

The Battle Lines are Drawn. 1950 is a crucial year. It is crucial because it will decide the future of America. The Internationalists are in power in Washington and are pushing "Point 4." The American workers and taxpayers who will pay for Point 4 will suffer more and more as foreign products flood the American market and displace our American-made goods. Our Reciprocal Trade Agreements have already adversely affected American industry and American labor because of the huge imports that are now flooding our markets—oil, watches, pottery, glassware, shoes, rubber goods etc.—all competing with goods we produce, thereby doing away with the jobs of American working men.

The battle against Internationalism is also a battle against Communism. Internationalism and Communism are closely related and often closely associated. Take the case of Alger Hiss for example. Hiss was called a Communist but no one ever proved he was a Communist. However, he did associate with Communists, and he worked with them. That fact was established in a court of law.

The battle this fall will be a battle to get rid of the Communists and their playmates, the Internationalists, in Washington. It will be a battle to head off Socialism or the Welfare State, a battle to prevent America from going the way France, England and Italy have gone.

Then and Now—Great changes have taken place in the last two decades, not the least of which is the change that has taken place in

D-DAY PLUS SIX YEARS

Six years have passed since American troops stormed the Normandy beaches. The successive campaigns through France, Belgium, Holland and Germany will long be remembered, but time already has erased many of the scars of war. The wartime picture, at right, of Fifth Army infantrymen advancing cautiously through the rubble-littered streets of Frankfurt, Germany, contrasts strongly with the picture below, which shows the same scene today. The peaceful atmosphere in which civilians move quietly about their business is a far cry from the constant rumbling of artillery six years ago. And the clean streets and patched-up buildings bear few traces of the wreckage of the world's deadliest war.

Summer is the Time To Test Farm Lands

"How often do farmers come in from November to March with a couple of frozen, soggy clods of dirt, they have kicked loose from a frozen field, wanting a soil test right away as limestone is about to be put on one field or another," says Farm Adviser Hughes of Will County.

"Often folks don't seem to understand why it can't be done or why be so particular.

"A soil test made correctly is a chart a farmer can follow for the next five or ten years in the improvement of his farm. There is no point in a retest until after the farm has been operated sufficiently long to cause a distinct change in the fertility level. The soil test is a valuable asset in establishing a proper rotation of crops and use of livestock. The rotation should go round twice at least. Then a check up may be made to indicate the progress or omissions. Since 40% of the net farm income depends on right use of land, the value of a test becomes more apparent.

"Accurate testing depends on accurate sampling. Dirt from one place in a field represents that one spot. But a test with a dozen samples, each a composite of three or more samplings, gives a picture of the field. These samplings may be made best in the summer time preferably when crops, especially corn are not too high. Instructions on taking soil to test should be followed carefully if performed by the owner. Frequently the owner would like the tester to take samples. In this case the tester should be given opportunity to get samples during the open season. Last fall at the last minute over 3,000 acres applied for testing service. It was so late Mr. Cletcher could not get to these farms to take samples.

"The soil testing laboratory is operated on a non-profit basis as a service of Farm Bureau to farmers. The laboratory and Mr. Cletcher the soil tester, works under the supervision of the soils department of the College of Agriculture at Urbana. The Farm Adviser has supervision over the county laboratory. Practically every county in the state maintains soils laboratories. Farmers wishing to take their own samples should secure test sheets from either Farm Bureau office, or leave requests for sampling giving the location of the farm to be tested. Application may be made directly to Mr. H. L. Cletcher, R. 1, 131st & Bell road, Lockport, Ill.

"Costs of testing have advanced slightly due to increase of testing solutions. About $5.00 is the cost for a complete test for 40 acres. Sampling is 10c per acre. The interpretations of tests made are based on results obtained from experimental soil fields of the state.

"Our tests to date indicate that the farm use of fertilizers as limestone and phosphate is about 75% accurate. The savings alone in the other 25% saves the cost of testing many times. However, the advantages from proper use of fertilizing materials is many times more than this small cost. With the leveling off of farm prices, it is to every farmer's advantage to make the best possible use of all means to secure economical and maximum costs for farm crops."

96 GALLONS WATER PER TREE

The shade of the old apple tree should be cool, for the tree is supplied by four gallons of water an hour. An apple tree will draw that much water from the ground, making a total of 96 gallons a day, say Childcraft Books. This is the amount it needs in order to replace the water constantly evaporating from its leaves and cooling the surrounding air.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gross announce the arrival of a baby girl.

PROPAGANDA BATTLE IN BERLIN—Latest weapons of the cold war in Germany's capital include match boxes and balloons, used in propaganda offensives and counter-barrages. The match cover, left, is one of many which were smuggled into Berlin's West Sector by Communists. On it are inscribed the words: "All Strength for the FDJ (Communist youth organization) . . . Willing to Work and Defend Peace." The balloon at right is one of hundreds released by anti-Communist Berliners, bearing the letter "F" for "Freedom," and the words: "FDJ for whom are you marching?" Anti-Red leaflets are attached.

They were en route home after a five month stay in England where Mr. Peck made the picture "Captain Hornblower."

Little Bobby Lehmann is recovering nicely after his illness of the past few weeks.

SAVE TIME & MANPOWER

with the The Bale-O-Matic

HERE IS THE HAY BALER THAT ADJUSTS
ITSELF TO ALL FIELD AND CROP CONDITIONS

It's the progressive farmer who preserves the food value of his hay, saves valuable storage space, makes hay easier to handle, saves time and manpower by harvesting his hay the modern way with the MM Bale-O-Matic.

THE Bale-O-Matic effortlessly lifts hay from the windrow or swath, slices it into uniform layers, and ties it with two strands of steel wire while the bale is still under compression.

THE Bale-O-Matic has a pick-up mechanism which operates equally well in green or cured hay or straw, handles light, uneven, or extra heavy windrows and swaths. The new Uni-Matic Power raises and lowers pick-up mechanism "on-the-go" over ridges and ditches.

THE Bale-O-Matic can be used as stationary baler just as it is. The sturdy, quality MM construction assures you of trouble-free service and minimum maintenance.

Its glory is now fading with its paint.

Rufe's Ramblings

By RUFÉ PICKETT

Roanoke, Va. is about two hundred and fifty miles from Norfolk on the main line of the Norfolk & Western Ry. It is the junction point where one branch runs up into the Shenandoah Valley and another, which is generally called the Punkin Vine Branch, comes up from North Carolina. The general offices of the N. & W. are located there, and their big railroad shop and many other industries furnish work for several thousand people. While Roanoke is a nice place to live, it has never been extensively advertised as a health resort. That's why my planning a trip there is rather outstanding.

I would like to say that my—well it's sort of a mental ailment, is not serious, but it might be should I ever start trying to get the world to see things as I see them. For over half a century I have been in the minority and have taken the overwhelming odds as a matter of course, but I'm getting older each year. I never noticed this—er condition the first time I was in Roanoke. The train from North Carolina pulled into the station and I changed cars to a west bound headed in the same direction. But on my second arrival there we headed down by the shops and backed in. When I started over toward the business section I found myself on the wrong side of the tracks, and I've been turned around ever since. I have heard that Wrong Way Corrigan got straightened out after going back, and while I may not agree with everybody on everything I at least hope to see the sun rise

1950 Chicago Fair Tickets Now on Sale

The Chicago Fair of 1950 got off to a flying start May 22 with the opening of the sale of souvenir ticket books. Mayor Martin J. Kennelly purchased the number one book from Harry P. Harrison, director of advance ticket sales, and the mayor had to pay $3.95 cash to get it. There will be no free passes for this Chicago fair.

However, this Souvenir Ticket Book gives a tremendous value to those who are fortunate enough to get one at any of the loop or neighborhood stores where the book is on sale until the opening day of the Fair, June 24.

The book, which gives a $5.50 value, includes five admissions to the grounds, where 60 acres of "American Achievement on Parade" will be demonstrated by many outstanding exhibits. In addition, the book contains one ticket each to the Cypress Gardens Water Thrill Show the Big Top Circus, the Ice Varities and two tickets to "Music in The Round," a festival of musical favorites including "The Merry Widow," "Of Thee I Sing," "The Mikado" and "On The Town." After the Fair opens all tickets will be full price—even for Mayor Kennelly.

"PINCHED" FOR GOING TOO SLOW

And it all happened in Chicago as Roy Mosen, owner of "Matilda," reputedly the oldest gas-propelled car still operating in the country, meets Policeman Samuel Scarpella while en route to Chicago Fair of 1950. Built in 1894 at cost of $15,000, automobile has top speed of 10 m.p.h. It will be a feature of "Frontiers of Freedom" historical pageant at the Fair. With Mosen is Mrs. D. W. Hankins, daughter of one of the car's builders.

More than one million dollars of mobile equipment, including either originals or exact replicas of some of the greatest mechanical discoveries that have contributed directly to the building of the American economy, will be used as stage properties for the mammoth "Frontiers of Freedom" historical pageant which will dramatize 270 years of American history and progress in 14 scenes running 63 minutes at the Chicago Fair of 1950 this summer.

Included among the stage properties will be such novelties as an authentic oil derrick gushing simulated oil, a replica of "The Kittyhawk," the Wright Brothers' plane, a century-old Baltimore clipper ship, a two-deck Erie canal boat, a copy of the first McCormick reaper, the 1829 Tom Thumb and 1831 John Bull railroad trains, modern diesel locomotives, a jet plane, the most modern cotton picking machine, a self-propelled harvester thresher and many others.

"Frontiers of Freedom" will be shown four times daily in a lake front theater seating 6,000, and having the largest outdoor stage in the world. Dedicated to dramatizing American achievements in science, agriculture, commerce and industry, the Chicago Fair of 1950 opens June 24 and runs through Labor Day.

The Marley Woman's club will meet Thursday, June 8 at the home of Mrs. John Riley. Mrs. Royal Corp will assist the hostess. The annual election of officers will be held at this meeting.

Field Meet on Contour Planting

A contour layout field meeting to establish contour guide lines for soybean planting was held Thursday morning, May 25, at the Herman Koelling farm on Dixie Highway, two miles north of Beecher. The meeting was sponsored by the North Beecher soil conservation group, and was conducted by Arthur Kelley, farm planner for the Will County Soil Conservation district.

Walter Stoeven, chairman of the North Beecher neighborhood conservation group and who operates the Koelling farm, began contour planting on soybeans in level rows on a sloping field.

Kelley says the contour farming practice will hold water on the sloping field, increase crop yields and keep the top soil in place. According to Kelley, contour farming on sloping fields blends in complementary with liming and fertilizing and with the legume-grass program.

Martin and Willard Wille have constructed and seeded a large grass waterway and are also planting corn on the contour for the first time this spring.

Retain VITAMIN A PROTEINS MINERALS Use VHC-9

CHEMICAL CROP PRESERVATIVE IN Hay - Grain - Fodder and Ground Feed

Scientific tests show that 90% of the Vitamin A and 70% of the protein in Alfalfa is in the leaves. To protect food value, you must harvest hay while tough so that leaves will not be lost, and avoid excessive sun curing. VHC-9 will make it possible for you to do this without danger of mildew, rot, mold, or heat. VHC-9 is a blue powder chemical crop preservative, equally effective in protecting nutritional value in grain and roughage. VHC-9 application equipment available for balers, blowers, and elevators.
